MARBLE HEART

Butler's Cool Reception
in the Senate
Chamber.

WAS DUBOISE DEFEATED?

WILL MAY GO INTO THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

Will Be Removed for Too Active Partisanship—The Senate to Be Reorganized Early in March.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—Butler's marble heart when he appeared in the Senate, and he soon left a Chamber. He says something about beginning the fight for silver in the making of the Senatorial election in the Senate, but honest silver men, Senator Teller, smile incredulously at such a statement. In the Senate, Butler had an opportunity, by way of showing that he is an honest man. Why did he desert him?

CAR LINES CONSOLIDATED.

Electric Company in Charleston Buys Out Horse Car Lines.

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 30.—The owners of the Charleston Street Railway, a new electric line in course of construction, have just purchased the two-horse car lines now in operation here, the Enterprise Railroad and the City Railway. These companies have been doing business for many years and are operated upon some of the most important thoroughfares. The purchase price of the City Railway is par for stock and 95 per cent. for bonds. The Enterprise stock was somewhat less. This gives the Electric Company all available streets in the city, and all lines will be electrified.

MRS. BEECHER FAILING.

She Is Much Worse and There Is No Hope of Her Recovery.

Stamford, Conn., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher was worse today. She was able last week to sit up in her room for a short time each day, but she suffered a relapse, and could not be moved at all. The attending physicians give the assurance that there is no immediate danger, but they acknowledge that she is steadily failing, and that, on account of her advanced age, there is practically no hope that she will recover from the injury to her hip. She was weak today and suffered more pain than at any time in several weeks.

For the Championship and Heavy Purse.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—Two picked crews from the flagship New York and the battleship Indiana, raced for the championship of the navy and a $7,600 purse in Hampton Roads this afternoon over a five-mile course. The New York's crew won by nine strokes, or about four boat lengths.

Cotton Receipts at Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—Norfolk's cotton receipts during the five months ended today were 610,484 bales, as against 228,707 bales last year, an increase of 382,747 bales.

SOME OBJECTIONS STATED

WHY SOME PEOPLE DO NOT LIKE THE SCHOOL BILL.

There Are Objections to Everything New—Elevates Professional Standard—Takes Money.

Speaking to a representative of THE TRIBUNE of some of the objections that are made to the Teachers' Assembly school bill, now being considered by the legislative committee on Education, Mr. Charles J. Parker, secretary of the Teachers' Assembly, said:

Some will object to it because it is something new. To some people a new thing approaches criminality. Some will object to it because the specified qualifications of the District Superintendents will preclude the possibility of the election of themselves or one of their friends to the office.

Many will object to it because it will elevate the professional standard and will relegate to the menial trades and occupations those who are incompetent to do creditably the work required of a teacher. Of course, an educated and trained supervisor will soon weed these incompetents out.

Some will object to it because they do not comprehend the force of the bill. The most intelligent element of the teaching profession, including hundreds of teachers from every department of school and college work, discussed carefully and endorsed this plan. I am sorry their work has disgusted and nauseated some of the teachers in the State who criticize but promise nothing better. It must be a case of indignation. Many who are not teachers will object to it because they think lawyers, doctors, preachers, magistrates, etc., know more about teaching than do the teachers themselves. Some of this class will probably be thoroughly entrenched in their opinions for and against the bill, if they, at one time, made a few dollars teaching (?) school in order to prepare for their present professions. But it is a well known fact that, as a rule, the man who is not a success in his own business, can give beautiful counsel to others who are succeeding.

If the present law, requiring physicians to stand examinations for license to practice medicine were repealed, in five years there would be a vigorous protest among a certain class of doctors against its reenactment into law, and 'twould be the same case with the lawyers. Would the Legislature hear the protests of these, or would it heed the recommendations of those better versed in the science of their respective professions?

Some will object to it because it will take money from the school fund to maintain the system. The amount required is small, and will affect the school term but slightly. One of the greatest needs is good teaching as well as longer terms. Much of the public school money is now being practically thrown away because of "cheap teachers."

In one school, to my personal knowledge, the Committee employed a teacher from the Soldiers' Home. Probably the fact that he "fought, bled and died" for his country, and needed the money for his family, secured him the place.

A certain County Examiner in North Carolina told me himself that if a school committee employed an incompetent teacher, he would not refuse the teacher a certificate, because the people paid the taxes and were entitled to say whom they wanted to teach their school. Such an economy as this is disastrous.

No manufacturing plant will attempt to run without a superintendent and departmental heads. No farm can be successfully managed without intelligent supervision, and no man of sense would invest his money in such enterprises and permit them to be worked by incompetent laborers.

THE DUKE OF DURHAM FACTORY

LARGEST CIGARETTE ESTABLISHMENT IN THE WORLD—THE DUKES' BRANCH OF THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY AS SEEN BY A TRIBUNE REPORTER.

The Most Complete and Best Equipped Factory, Combining All Modern Improvements and Facilities With Up to Date Ideas.

A representative of THE TRIBUNE while in Durham visited the magnificent cigarette and smoking tobacco establishment, known now as the Duke's Branch of the American Tobacco Company, which has achieved a National reputation under the old firm name, which is dear to the heart of every native North Carolinian, "Duke of Durham."

The business of manufacturing tobacco and cigarettes was started under this made by Mr. Washington Duke in 1865. He found the venture profitable, and the goods he manufactured gave such great satisfaction that he continued and in a few years his business grew to such an extent that he took his three sons into partnership, and the business continued increasing so that in 1878 Mr. George W. Watts of Baltimore, Md., became a partner with W. Duke and his three sons, B. N., J. B. and B. L. Duke, the firm then becoming W. Duke, Sons & Co., a title which in a short time became established and known in all parts of the United States, Canada, Europe and other foreign nations, as the leading manufacturers of cigarettes and smoking tobacco in the world, a reputation which they sustained by manufacturing the best goods to be found in the civilized and uncivilized countries.

In 1890, when the American Tobacco Company became a formation, W. Duke, Sons & Co. became one of its branches, and Mr. J. B. Duke was elected president of the consolidation, with offices in New York.

The factory in Durham, as presented to THE TRIBUNE's readers, is an immense structure of brick and covers almost a whole block, with additional houses for engines and machinery. It has four stories and basement, with a floor area of 185,700 square feet, with all modern made by turning cold water and steam together which makes a dense fog and tempers the leaf tobacco. This leaf tobacco is then prized and stored in immense hogheads from 2 to 5 years before being used. When the leaf has remained in this condition the proper length of time it is taken out and the manufacture of cigarettes begins. The tobacco is taken out of the hogheads, steamed and then goes to the casing machine, where it is flavored and then cut into fine cigarette tobacco by machinery. From here it goes to the making rooms, where there are twenty-six machines constantly at work, with a capacity of 12,000 cigarettes to a machine. The tobacco is fed into these machines in a loose state and comes out cigarettes all ready to smoke, with the name of brands printed on each cigarette. The cigarette is next taken to the packing department, where they are inspected and all defective cigarettes thrown out and the good ones boxed. The girls in this department are so used to handling these goods that they can tell at a glance the good ones from the bad. The cigarettes are then packed in boxes and again inspected to see that the proper number are in each box. They are then taken to the stamp ing department where the revenue stamps are pasted on each box, and they are ready for packing into cartons. They are then packed into cartons and the cartons are wrapped in rice paper, after which they are packed and ready for shipment.

All cigarettes manufactured for export are wrapped in tin foil and boxed and sealed up in lead foil.

They manufacture all their boxes for cigarettes, cartons and wood boxes, having factories of their own for this special work. They make their books of cigarette paper which goes with each package of their smoking tobacco of which they make many brands.

Their Duke's Mixture smoking tobacco has a larger sale than any tobacco in the world. They use forty-four hogheads of tobacco per day in the manufacture of their products.

Their building is fire proof, being fitted throughout with an automatic sprinkler system, which is worked by automatic engines and is always ready for instant use, within one minute's time any part or floor of the building can be flooded with water.

Every department is complete within itself, being divided by massive iron doors, and can be made separate by simply shutting them to.

Their leading brands of cigarettes are the famous Duke of Durham, Cameo, Cycle, Battle Ax, Old Gold, Pin Head, etc., and in smoking tobacco their Duke's Mixture and Duke of Durham are their recognized leaders.

This big house employs over 800 hands and does an annual business amounting to millions of dollars.

The managing directors of this immense branch of the American Tobacco Company are B. N. Duke and Geo. W. Watts, both gentlemen of rare culture and experience, who have spent years in the tobacco business.

This institution has been conceded, even by rival manufacturers, to be the largest cigarette manufactory in the world.

The following are the officers of the American Tobacco Company: James B. Duke, President; Wm. H. Butler, First Vice-President; John Pope, Second Vice-President; Wm. A. Martburg, Third Vice-President; Geo. A. Arena, Treasurer; W. R. Harris, Auditor; Josiah Brown, Secretary.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

Is the Cashier of the Charleston Savings Institution.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 27.

It is currently reported that Mr. J. W. Bock, cashier of Charleston Savings Institution, is short in his accounts about eight thousand dollars. Every effort to ascertain the exact amount has proved fruitless. It is admitted by one in a position to know that his books were a "little tangled." The shortage is said to have been made good by Mr. Bock's father. Mr. Bock, the cashier, is now at Glenn Springs, S. C., to which place, it is said, he has been ordered by his physician. For several years it has been current talk of the fine style in which Mr. Bock lived. Mr. Isaac S. Cohen, the son-in-law of Mr. Morris Israel, the president and largest stockholder of the bank, has been made cashier in place of Mr. Bock. Mr. Cohen, up to the time of this appointment, was president of the State Savings Bank, and although only about 29 years of age, has by his energy and personal careful attention to its affairs built the bank up to its present high standard, and his loss will be keenly felt by the bank, and it is quite hard to say whether they will find anyone who will so ably and satisfactorily fill both customers and stockholders fill this vacancy. Mr. Bock has been connected with the bank about ten years and was highly esteemed, and many regrets are expressed at his fall.

The cold wave has given us a taste of its icy blasts. Congressman Murray is daily expected here. Mr. H. W. Purvis, his notary, is up to his ears in work, taking testimony in the contest for the 55th Congress.

The political news in THE TRIBUNE of the 23d set the tongues of the politicians wagging. Dr. W. D. Crum said he was a candidate for the post-office if he don't have to fight for it; but if there is any fight he is out of it.

There were no new developments in the Reedy Logan case—everything passed off without any friction.

Mr. Edward Gadsden, a prosperous farmer has, at his residence on Ashley Avenue, a white raccoon, which he caught out hunting.

Major R. C. Browne, Chairman First Congressional District of South Carolina, of Union, Republican party, is very ill at his home from a relapse of la grippe; he is very much missed by the local politicians, who daily discuss with him the different political phases. The Major is quite popular with a host of people, who sincerely hope for his speedy recovery.

Congressman G. W. Murray received a complimentary vote for United States Senator, his friend, the Hon. R. B. Anderson, the only colored and Republican member of the House of Representatives in this State, cast his vote for him.

The Stanford Opera Company is playing here at crowded houses. At the first performance all the tickets were sold before noon, and standing room only was obtainable.

Judge Joseph H. Earle was elected by the joint Assembly to succeed Hon. J. L. M. Irby in the United States Senate.

BISHOP OF LONDON.

Rev. Mandell Creighton Enthroned With Out Spectacular Ceremonies.

London, Jan. 30.—The formal enthronement of the Right Hon. and Right Rev. Mandell Creighton as Bishop of London, to succeed the Right Hon. and Right Rev. Frederick Temple, who was elevated to the Archdiocese of Canterbury and Primacy of all England, took place in St. Paul's Cathedral today, and, contrary to expectation, it was in no wise an imposing spectacle. The cathedral was only about half filled with spectators and there was only a fair attendance of the London clergy. The actual enthronement took place in the choir, out of sight of the majority of the people present.

Bank Wreckers Sentenced.

Denver, Col., Jan. 30.—This morning Judge Hallett, in the United States court, sentenced C. H. Dow, former president of the Commercial bank of this city; S. B. McClurken, teller, and Dr. O. E. Miller, customer and resident of Chicago, to the penitentiary at Leavenworth, for wrecking the bank. Dr. Miller was sentenced to ten years, Dow to seven years, and McClurken to five years.

THE LATE GOLD WAVE

Remarkable for Its Extent, Duration and Severity.

FREEZING WEATHER IN FLORIDA

COLDEST WEATHER ON RECORD FOR LAST WEEK IN JANUARY.

Low Temperatures in the Northwest—Very Heavy Snows in the Middle States and Throughout New England.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—The following special bulletin was issued by the Weather Bureau this afternoon on the cold wave of January 23d to 30th:

The condition of extreme cold that has prevailed over the country the past week has been remarkable for its extent, duration and severity. The temperature over nearly the entire United States east of Rocky mountains has been greatly below the normal during the whole week, the deficiencies in some sections ranging from 30 to 40 for several days. Throughout the Ohio Valley and the Lake region on the 25th, and the Carolinas, central and northern Florida, Georgia, Alabama and eastern Tennessee on the 28th and 29th. The minimum temperatures reported were lower than any previously recorded by the bureau during the last ten days of January. The conditions were especially severe throughout the Southern States, the line of freezing temperature extending nearly to Jupiter, Fla.; and the temperature as far South as the Gulf coast, falling to fourteen degrees below freezing, and continuing ten degrees or more below for several days.

Following are some of the minimum temperatures occurring in the regions where the cold wave was pronounced, viz: On the 25th, degrees below zero, Chicago, 20; Milwaukee and Sault Ste Marie, 18; Indianapolis and Detroit, 14; Cincinnati, 10; Pittsburgh, 8; on the 28th above zero, Tampa, 30; Jacksonville, 22; Mobile and Atlanta, 6; Knoxville, 2; on the 29th above zero, Jupiter, 34; Tampa, 28; Jacksonville, 22; Key West, 50. Below zero, Knoxville, 4.

The period of cold weather was attended by a persistent condition of abnormally high barometric pressure, readings of 31.5 inches and above, the highest readings on record being reported from the extreme northwest. A storm that developed over Florida on the 26th and moved northeast along the Atlantic coast was an efficient factor in producing the low temperatures in Florida on the 28th and 29th. This storm developed great energy in its passage along the middle Atlantic and New England coasts, causing high and heavy snows in the middle States and New England. Boston reported about 14 inches of snow; North field, 9; Portland, 9; Albany and New York City, 10; Philadelphia 7; and Washington 5.

A Receiver for a Dime Savings Bank.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 30.—Judge Froman today appointed Ralph Metcalf receiver for the Dime Savings Bank, requiring him to give a bond for $200,000. This action was taken upon a bill filed in the Superior Court by Geo. W. Reed, a stockholder in the concern. There was no opposition on the part of the Directors, but on the contrary they came into court with an answer and consented to the appointment.

Samuel G. Bailly is President and W. C. D. Grannis Vice-President of the bank. Bailly claims to have resigned some months ago and Grannis is sick in bed.

The posting of the receivership notice on the door of the bank did not create any excitement on the street and the depositors who have been unable to get any of the money due them because of the enforcement of the 90 day notice were in a condition to receive the news as the only logical ending of the banks embarrassment.

Receiver Metcalf, who was the newly elected Treasurer, said: "I am almost certain we will be able to pay every dollar to our 4,000 depositors."

Judge Goff Hesitates.

Canton, Ohio, Jan. 30.—Maj. McKinley said this morning he had not received a letter from Judge Goff, of West Virginia, declining a Cabinet position. No word has been received here from Judge Goff since he left Canton. Judge Goff, when he came to Canton at the request of Maj. McKinley last week, took the matter of entering the Cabinet under consideration. At present there is no reason to think he will not accept a Cabinet portfolio.

Corbett Will Go Into Training.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 30.—James J. Corbett has decided to close his theatrical season at Kansas City February 5th, and to start at once for the Pacific coast, where he will go into training for his battle with Fitzsimmons March 17th. Corbett expects to do his training in California, and if his present plans are carried out he will not go to the Nevada battle ground until a few hours before the fight takes place.

MONEY FOR FREE SEEDS

WHICH PASSES THE AGRICULTURAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

It Was the Only Matter of Consequence in Congress Yesterday—Private Bills Passed.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—The agricultural appropriation bill was the principal and almost the sole subject of consideration in the House today, this being the third day it has been on. As usual, distribution of seeds gave considerable discussion. An amendment was adopted authorizing the members to select the seeds they desire, the Department of Agriculture to purchase and distribute the same.

Prospect of Peace in Cuba.

Madrid, Jan. 30.—The Epoca says that General Azcarraga, minister of war, has indicated in the course of conversation, that an arrangement with the Cuban rebels looking to a cessation of hostilities in Cuba may possibly be reached soon. The Madrid newspapers expressed belief that the recent visit of the Duke of Tetuan, minister of foreign affairs, was an event of great importance in the bearing upon the situation in Cuba.

A College President Dead.

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 30.—The Rev. Rufus Hall McIlwaine, D. D., the venerable President of Elynn College, Princeton, N. J., died early this morning of heart failure, in the 82d year of his age.

S PESCUD.

ARBITRATION TREATY

Considered by the Committee on Foreign Relations.

A FAVORABLE REPORT ORDERED

UNEXPECTED OPPOSITION IN THE COMMITTEE.

Important Amendment Adopted—King of Sweden Not to Be Umpire—Close Vote on Reporting the Treaty.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—Every member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, with the exception of Mr. Turpie, was present this morning when the committee convened, a few minutes before 11 o'clock. The entire session was devoted to consideration of the general treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain. Members denied themselves to several representatives who came over from the House and refused to be disturbed.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon a vote was taken on the treaty and a favorable report was ordered made to the Senate next Monday, and certain amendments were reserved for submission to the Senate when the subject shall come up.

The most important amendment was that which added at the end of Article I, the following words: "But no question which affects the foreign or domestic policy of either of the high contracting parties or the relations of either with any other state or power by treaty or otherwise, shall be subject to arbitration under this treaty except by a special agreement."

The second amendment strikes out all reference to his majesty the King of Sweden and Norway as the umpire, in case the court fails to agree upon an umpire in accordance with the provisions of Article III and Article V.

The motion to strike out this clause was carried with but one negative vote, that of Senator Gray, of Delaware.

The vote on the final motion to report the treaty to the Senate as amended was so close that it startled some of the friends of the convention who believed there would be practically no opposition to the amended treaty. When the roll was called the votes were cast as follows:

In favor of reporting the treaty to the Senate: Messrs. Sherman, Davis, Frye, Lodge, Cullum (Reps.), and Gray (Dem.).—6. Against reporting the treaty to the Senate: Messrs. Morgan, Mills, Daniel (Dems.), and Cameron (Rep.).—Total, 4. An amendment was also offered inserting a clause, stating in positive terms that the Alaskan boundary question should not be submitted to arbitration under this treaty, but it was rejected by the same vote of 6 to 4. It will be offered in the Senate. The debate in the committee room developed an opposition to the treaty under any consideration that was entirely unexpected; and if the majority of the committee represent a proportionate membership of the Senate, the indications are that the treaty will have a hard time securing the requisite two-thirds vote.

MARION BUTLER'S POLICY

IT IS RULE OR RUIN AND HE HAS RUINED HIMSELF.

He Will No Longer Have Influence With the Party—State Treasurer Worth to Be the Leader.

Special to THE TRIBUNE.

Fayetteville, N. C., Jan. 30.—John McDuffie, ex-chairman of the Populist Executive Committee of this (Cumberland) county, has just given me the following information: McDuffie returned this afternoon from Raleigh. He says Butler will no longer have influence with Populists. The two factions are now looking to getting together, with State Treasurer Worth as the Populist leader in North Carolina. McDuffie said Butler is too rabid. He lays the whole blame on him for the split in the party. While there is talk of asking him to resign as Senator, there will hardly be such a radical effort to depose him. When asked if he was a Pritchard man, McDuffie significantly replied he was trying to solidify the party. In reply to the question if Butler was requested to leave Raleigh for Washington, he said Butler had gone to see his wife. He didn't know if he would return.

Clerk of Superior Court Murphy, of Cumberland county, says Butler's policy has been, rule or ruin, and that he has ruined himself.

Last Card of Strikers.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 30.—The striking miners at Spring Hill are about to play their last card. The situation is becoming desperate, and as the mine owners ignore the strike committee, the miners have decided to call off all the men who are fighting the fire in the east slope. This would mean the destruction of the mine; but it is thought the provincial government will interfere, the government being virtually the owner of the mine and the company only the lessee.

The Weather.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30 (8 p. m.).—Virginia. Fair, followed by showers in southern portion at night; northeasterly winds; slightly warmer.

North Carolina. Fair, followed by showers on the coast; northeasterly winds; slight rise in temperature.

TURNPIKE ROADS

Across the Blue Ridge—Why the State Should Aid in Improving Them.

During the past few months, while investigating the mica and corundum industries in Western North Carolina, the writer has crossed the Blue Ridge from the Piedmont plateau and then crossed the mountain region westward toward the Tennessee line at a number of places. Any one who has had a similar experience, or who will examine a map of the State, cannot fail to see at a glance that the Blue Ridge is the natural divide between the territory to the east and to the west of the Appalachian mountains; and on geographic grounds, this, rather than the Great Smoky mountains, should have been the dividing line between the States which lie to the east and to the west.

Thus every child that studies the geography of North Carolina sees that the Blue Ridge is the natural watershed of this region, and the rivers that rise along its western slopes flow into Tennessee. The natural outlet for the trade and traffic of this region is westward into Tennessee rather than eastward into North Carolina. No one can understand the importance of this point until he travels across the country and notices how much steeper are the eastern than the western slopes of the Blue Ridge; and this fact makes it much easier for the exchange of commodities between Eastern Tennessee and our mountain region than between Piedmont North Carolina and these mountain countries. Hence one need hardly feel surprised when in traveling through the mountain region of Western North Carolina, especially in the counties north of Asheville, that the country merchants deal far more largely with the commercial houses in East Tennessee than with those to the east of the Blue Ridge. Indeed, it is probably no exaggeration of the facts to say that of the drummers one meets in this region, there are ten from East Tennessee to every one from the opposite side of the Blue Ridge. And the eagerness of the East Tennessee people to continue this condition of affairs cannot be better illustrated than by the fact that the people of Knoxville, Tenn., recently contributed $500 toward the building of a turnpike road from Banner's Elk to Elk Park in Mitchell county.

As long as this condition of things continues, and it is likely to increase instead of decrease, we must not be surprised if the people who live in these mountain counties often seem more in touch with their Tennessee neighbors rather than with their eastern fellow-citizens. For the region about Asheville and to the southwest, the building of the Western North Carolina Railroad has done much toward remedying the condition of affairs just described; and the building of the Asheville and Spartanburg Railroad has been something of a remedy in that direction. On the other hand, the construction and recent extension of the Cranberry Railroad is doing much to enlarge the connection between the people of Mitchell county and adjacent counties with East Tennessee; and the people of Ashe county often find it easier to gain access to the outer world through Virginia than by coming eastward over the Blue Ridge.

When these facts are considered, along with the additional fact that the eastern slopes and the summit of the Blue Ridge being steep and rugged are sparsely populated, and hence in accordance with our imperfect system of maintaining public roads, there are but few people to aid in keeping these roads in repair, it should occur to every one that the State of North Carolina should do one of two things for these mountain counties. Either (1) allow them to form a new State of the State of Tennessee so that they would not need to cross the Blue Ridge; or else (2) the State should aid in the construction of such turnpike roads from the top of the Blue Ridge down its eastern slopes as will make travel up and down these slopes far less difficult than it now is.

Of course the first of these alternatives is not to be thought of. It is hoped that not one of these counties would consider for a moment even the suggestion of severing its connection with North Carolina, and certainly no citizen of the piedmont plateau or the coastal plain region of North Carolina would be willing to see them take such a step. What the State ought to do then, is to remove the effect of this natural barrier by improving these mountain turnpikes, so that the increase and exchange of commodities between the mountain counties of the piedmont plateau will greatly and steadily increase, and the people of the east and the west will become more and more one in interest as well as in name.

Thursday the Coldest Day of the Winter.

BRITISH STEAMER ON THE SHOALS

PILOTS KICK AGAINST REDUCTION OF RATES.

Sympathy for Cuba—Baby Smothered in Bed—Death of an Old Citizen—The Messenger Stock Company.

Special Correspondence of THE TRIBUNE.

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 30.—The last two days have been bitter cold Thursday having been by all odds the coldest day of the winter so far. The thermometer at 5 o'clock Thursday morning registered 15 degrees. The cold have suffered intensely with the poor, but no extreme cases have been reported. Yesterday afternoon the weather moderated and today is considerably warmer.

The Oscar P. Sisson comedy company is to play here every night for a week, commencing February 1st.

The British steamer Ardishaig, before reported aground on Fry's Pan shoal, has not been floated. The tug worked on her yesterday, but at last reports she had not been budged. She is safe unless a south or southeasterly wind should kick up a heavy sea. She may have to put into this port for repairs when she leaves the shoal.

Mr. W. J. De Carteret, of Raleigh, was here Thursday, and Mr. W. L. Moore, also of your city, came in last night.

Colonel John D. Taylor, Clerk of the Superior Court, is down with the prevailing malady, la grippe.

Superior Court is still in session. Mr. W. B. Hartsfield, one of Wilmington's oldest citizens, died at midnight Thursday. He was nearly 70 years of age. Heart trouble was the immediate cause of death. Mr. Hartsfield was a coppersmith in the Wilmington and Weldon Railway shops in this city. He had resided in this city for nearly sixty years.

Mr. Joe Sneed's horse, while being driven to the Market street fountain yesterday afternoon, got one of its forefeet stuck into a small casing sunk into the ground for the purpose of turning the water for the fountain on or off, and before it could be extricated the animal's leg was broken. A suit against the city for damages may result.

The four-day-old infant girl of a Jewish family named Fisk, on Docs street, this city, was found dead in bed yesterday morning by its mother's side. It had been accidentally smothered. The parents are heartbroken.

The introduction recently in the Legislature of a bill reducing the rates of pilotage on the Cape Fear river is a move in the right direction. The bill, if it has not already passed, is pretty sure to do so, as the only class of people who might object to it are supporting and urging its passage. I refer to the pilots themselves. The bill provides for a 25 per cent. reduction in the present rate, and is the result of a conference between the Chamber of Commerce committee and other committees with the pilots.

Shipmasters would reduce the rate even still more were they to have charge of the matter. I understand the cost of pilotage for a vessel from the port to this city exceeds in many instances the cost of towing the same vessel the distance mentioned. Little things of this kind operate against the prosperity of the city and act as a barrier to material progress.

Big gigs of sympathy for the Cubans have been encountered by your correspondent in his diurnal meanderings. Rumor says a branch of the Cuban League is shortly to be organized in this city. Diligent searching has failed to reveal anything more definite.

Captain J. M. McGowan has returned from Raleigh, where he has been named and dined by the General Agent of the Sun Life Assurance Company. Captain McGowan has made millions in his day.

The local politicians are beginning to think and plan for the March city election.

The news concerning the incorporation of a stock company to take charge of the Wilmington Messenger was a surprise to many.

Wilmington Typographical Union, No. 309, was organized a few weeks ago and is thriving. Interesting developments may be looked for in Wilmington newspaperdom in the near future.

Later—The steamer Ardishaig has been floated and will proceed to Savannah. She was pulled off at high water yesterday afternoon.

Messrs. Braddy & Gaylord of the "Rocket Store" have dissolved partnership. Mr. G. W. Gaylord having bought Mr. George Braddy's interest in the business. Mr. Gaylord will run the business hereafter.

"The Scottish Reformation, or Life of John Knox," is to be presented here shortly by Mrs. Monroe, aided by home talent.

Mrs. W. F. Lessman died here yesterday afternoon. A husband and three children survive her.

Rev. T. N. Ivey, of Greensboro, one of the editors of the North Carolina Christian Advocate, is in the city, and will preach at Grace M. E. Church tomorrow morning.

Mr. Thomas F. Bagley, of this city, has been appointed subagent of the industrial department of the S. A. L. system, with an office in this city. Mr. Bagley was appointed by Capt. John T. Patrick, and the appointment is a merited one.

Mr. M. C. S. Noble, Superintendent of the Wilmington graded schools, left for that city yesterday. Mr. Noble speaks very hopefully about the outlook for our public schools. However, he is earnest in his advocacy of better supervision, and favored the idea of a State Board of Examiners, composed of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and two or more others, so that a certificate would be good in any part of the State.

Prof. Toms, of the Durham Graded School, spent yesterday in the city.

COMING OF NAT. GOODWIN.

Greatest Theatrical Event in Raleigh's History—Contract Has Been Signed.

The greatest event in the theatrical history of Raleigh is the coming of the King of Comedians, Nat. Goodwin.

No star of his magnitude has ever appeared before a Raleigh audience. Think of Raleigh seeing Mr. Goodwin in his new production, "American Citizen," before the people of New York get a glimpse of it. Mr. Goodwin has already signed a contract to appear in New York under Charles Frohman's management for the entire season, commencing in September.

Mr. Goodwin has just returned from a most remarkably successful engagement in far away Australia, whither he went with large guarantee contracts. After his return he put his new play on in Chicago, where it is now running, and Hooley's great theater has been filled every night, hundreds being turned away. Mr. Goodwin would continue his engagement in Chicago, which ends next week, but his contracts elsewhere demand that he fulfill them. "An American Citizen" has proved to be one of Mr. Goodwin's greatest successes, and to quote the language of the Chicago correspondent of the Dramatic Mirror, the audiences have been so large that they have run the orchestra under the stage.

Mr. Goodwin's recently wedded wife, Maxine Elliott, will appear with him in Raleigh. She is classed as the most beautiful woman on the stage. A splendid likeness of her is in the December number of Munsey's.

The contracts for Mr. Goodwin's appearance in Raleigh were finally signed yesterday. The guarantee which the management of the Academy of Music is required to put up is the largest that was ever offered an attraction to appear here. Mr. Goodwin will appear at the Academy of Music Wednesday, February 17th. Reduced rates will prevail on all the railroads, and excursions from several points are being contemplated.

TO AMEND CONSTITUTION.

Representative Watts Wants to Reduce Per Diem of Members of House and Senate.

Representative Watts, of Alleghany county, is drafting a bill which will doubtless land on the table and stick good and tight. It is a bill to provide for an amendment to the State Constitution so that the per diem of Representatives and State Senators may be reduced from $4 to $3.

It will be remembered that while the bill of Mr. Hauser, providing for a reduction of the per diem of clerks of the General Assembly was pending, an amendment was offered by Mr. Duckery, of Richmond, providing for such a change purely to kill the original measure, and it did the "job" admirably.

While there are a few members of the General Assembly who will vote for Mr. Watts' proposed bill, still it is clearly apparent, from the recent vote on the Hauser-Duckery measure, that the introduction of this new one for amending the constitution may feel confident that his bill will find "a reserved seat on the table."

Among the arrivals at the Park are: Messrs. R. D. Tutwiler, New York; J. F. Hein, Philadelphia; P. L. Mayfield, Virginia; J. P. Moore, New York; E. C. Mangold, Grand Rapids; S. W. Powell, Indiana; S. H. Ellerson, Virginia; T. C. Sandifer, Kentucky; E. J. Cobb, Richmond, and J. Walker, Baltimore.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 31, 1897.

SENATOR PRITCHARD, THE TRIBUNE, AND THE PIONEER POPULISTS.

There appeared in a Baltimore paper of a late date the following, and credited to THE RALEIGH TRIBUNE:

"The time is coming for final amalgamation. We can, by 1900, absorb all the Populists worth having."

This item should have been credited to the Asheville Register. It is the same which Senator Butler copied into his caucus address, and used against Senator Pritchard. Butler supplemented it with naming the Register Senator Pritchard's paper.

The Baltimore paper also refers to THE RALEIGH TRIBUNE as Senator Pritchard's paper.

We want THE TRIBUNE and Senator Pritchard set right. First, Mr. Pritchard does not own a dollar's worth of stock in this paper. Senator Pritchard, as a Republican, with the interests of the Republican party at heart, has given the promoters of the enterprise all the moral and political help within his power. He has known us for some time, personally and politically, and gave us his moral and political support, but not a dollar's worth of stock does he own. He has not been solicited, and if solicited he would rightly decline to take stock. Further, there is no one connected directly or remotely with THE TRIBUNE who is seeking office and, therefore, the charge of patronage cannot be laid to the door of THE TRIBUNE.

We are proud to have it to say that Senator Pritchard is a subscriber for two copies of THE TRIBUNE, and that we have his best wishes for our success personally and the success of THE TRIBUNE. Such a man's favorable opinion and hearty good will go much farther than a few dollars.

Second. THE TRIBUNE could not have uttered the expression above referred to, because it is not in the line of the policy of the Republican party and that faction of the Populist party which are with us and who claim to be the pioneer Populists of North Carolina. They are recognized as our friends in all matters of interest in State affairs, and we have uttered no word in connection with this faction except in the sense of co-operation in the support of the present administration and legislative enactments. The political status as to the Republican party and this faction of the Populist party can be stated in a few words, and that is, that each party maintain its own identity by honorable co-operation. That is THE TRIBUNE's position; that is Senator Pritchard's position, and that is the pioneer Populists' position.

There were Senators and Representatives at Raleigh who represented constituencies in which the Republicans cast more votes than Democrats and Populists combined, and yet these men voted against Senator Pritchard. Senator Clark representing Halifax with its two thousand McKinley majority is an instance of this kind. There was only one county in the State controlled by Populists that conceded a place on the fusion legislative ticket to a Republican, and that was Chatham. Strange to say that some of the men most indebted to Republican votes were the most vicious in their opposition to Senator Pritchard. This is a remarkable world.—Hickory Press.

THE RAILROAD BILL.

The bill entitled "An act to prescribe the terms upon which foreign railroad corporations shall be allowed to operate railroads and transact business within the State of North Carolina," introduced in the House Friday by Mr. Cook, might, with almost equal propriety, be termed "A bill to make the office of Attorney General a sinecure and for other purposes." The "other purposes" are embraced in provisions to compel railroad companies to surrender their constitutional rights and pay for the privilege; to make the Southern Railway Company give up its lease of the North Carolina Railroad, and compel it to buy or lease the road upon such terms as the Governor may impose.

It is not the purpose of THE TRIBUNE at this time to discuss the bill, but only to take a hasty glance at it. There will be time enough for discussion later on, if occasion shall arise for giving it further consideration. As briefly, then as consistent with clearness of statement, we observe that the bill provides:

That any railroad corporation chartered in another State, now doing business in North Carolina, or that may hereafter desire to operate a railroad in the State, shall take out a license for twenty years, which shall be granted it only after it agrees in writing to surrender its constitutional right to litigate in the United States courts, or to appeal from the decisions of the State courts. It shall pay five hundred dollars for this privilege, and every officer, agent, employee or servant transgressing the provisions of the act, shall be indictable and liable to fine and imprisonment.

The bill authorizes the Governor to bring suit to annul the lease of the North Carolina Railroad to the Southern Railway Company. The effect of this will be to leave the Southern Railway with a road running west from Salisbury and another running south from Charlotte on one side of the State, and on the other a road running north from Greensboro and one east from Selma, besides numerous short lines and branches, with no connection between the points named except via the North Carolina Railroad. The bill further proposes to prevent the construction of new lines or the extension of any now in existence that will connect the different parts of the Southern's system in the State. The bill further provides that when the lease of the North Carolina Railroad shall have been annulled by the courts, the Governor, together with the Secretary of State and State Treasurer, may sell the State's interest in the road for a sum not less than two million dollars, or lease the road for twenty years. It is evident, from these circumstances, that it is the purpose of the author of the bill to compel the Southern Railway Company to buy or lease the North Carolina Railroad upon the Governor's terms.

The bill substitutes the Secretary of State for the Attorney-General in every connection where the chief law officer of the State would be expected to come in; and although it does not make the Secretary of State the Governor's legal adviser, it comes very near doing it. The bill makes it the duty of the Governor or the Secretary of State to bring suits for the forfeiture of charters of railroad corporations violating its provisions, and in the section looking to the annulment of the lease of the North Carolina Railroad, the Governor alone is authorized to bring suit.

In no part of the bill is the Attorney General even remotely hinted at as the counsel for the State in any suits arising from violations of its provisions, but he is, by strong implication, excluded from participation in them, and the Governor is expressly authorized to employ counsel. The bill goes further, and authorizes the Governor to bring any suit that the Attorney General is empowered to bring under sections 604, 605, 607 or 686 of The Code. These sections refer to actions to annul the charters of corporations and to do some other things of quite a different character.

While the effect of the bill, if passed, will be to relieve the Attorney-General of some of his most onerous duties, no one who knows him will suspect him of having the bill fixed in the interest of his ease and comfort.

OUR MICA INDUSTRY.

State Geologist Holmes came down from the mountains a few days ago, where he had been investigating the mica industry, and reports having secured for the State Museum one of the largest blocks of mica ever discovered in that region. The block weighs 450 pounds, is about 24 by 25 by 18 inches in size. Usually the mica is gotten out in blocks from 4 to 6 and 10 inches in size. One of the curious things about this block of mica is that it is as large as the vein in which it was found; whereas, frequently, the vein is 10, 15 or 20 times as wide as the blocks of mica found in it.

The mica industry is one of the most important in Western North Carolina, but it has been seriously interfered with during the last few years through the importation into the United States in large quantities of the East India mica, which is mined by the cheap East India labor, brought to this country as ballast and sold as North Carolina mica. North Carolina has long produced much the larger part of the mica mined in the United States. For the five years from 1881 to 1885 inclusive, the aggregate value of this mica was $1,315,000, or an average of $263,000 per year. During this time the total value of the mica imported into the United States was $78,000, an average of $15,000 per year. For the five years from 1891 to 1895 inclusive, the total amount of mica produced in the United States (largely in North Carolina) was only $322,000, or $64,000 per year; while during this time the value of the mica imported was nearly $800,000.

The worst feature of the situation is that the importers of this India mica have been endeavoring to create the impression that the workable supplies of North Carolina mica were being rapidly exhausted, and that the mica industry in North Carolina would soon be a thing of the past. The State Geological Survey for some months has been examining the mica deposits in Western North Carolina, and has found a large number of deposits which can be worked easily and cheaply, and which if worked on a large scale with improved modern machinery, it has been shown that these mines would yield even a larger supply of mica than has ever been yielded by North Carolina mica mines. So that instead of being nearly exhausted, the workable deposits of mica in North Carolina are extensive enough to supply all the mica needed in the United States for an indefinite period.

It is a compliment to the quality of the North Carolina mica that not only the best mica mined in other States, but also the best of the mica imported from the foreign countries is sold in the markets as North Carolina mica. The only other States now reported as producing mica are Virginia, New Hampshire and Wyoming, in each of which the output is small as compared to that of North Carolina.

Henderson Gold Leaf.

Raleigh's new Republican daily, THE TRIBUNE, made its appearance last Sunday. It is 8 pages in size, well gotten up, ably edited, bright and newsy, and starts off with promising prospects. Its telegraphic news service is full and complete, and in all essentials it is a modern up to date morning paper, creditable alike to its publishers and proprietors, and the political party it represents. The Gold Leaf extends its cordial welcome and wishes for it the measure of success it deserves.

Should Canada revolt against the English monarchy, as Cuba has revolted against the Spanish monarchy, the Americans would not permit their government to aid in the subjugation of the former, for the sake of British royalty, as they are permitting it to aid in the enthralment of the latter, for the sake of Spanish royalty.

A BRIGHT AND LIVELY LITTLE CITY WITH MAGNIFICENT COTTON MILLS, REPRESENTING A CAPITAL OF TWO MILLION DOLLARS.

Some of the Men Who Make the Town. Among Them Hon. Claudius Dockery and Editor Settle Dockery, Two Bright and Promising Young Men.

ROCKINGHAM, N. C., Jan. 28.—The bright and enterprising town of Rockingham on the Seaboard Air Line is one of the most progressive little cities in the State of North Carolina. One of the characteristic points that brings this town forward in the Republican eyes of the people is the fact that it is the only town in North Carolina that has polled a Republican ticket before and ever since the war. Rockingham is a very bright little city, and within the past few years has made many noted improvements. There are six cotton mills manufacturing fabrics located here which represent a capital of about $2,000,000, and there are enterprising merchants and business men who are doing much to uphold the town. Among them are the Great Falls Manufacturing Company, P. & D. Manufacturing Company, Raber Manufacturing Company, Ledbetter Manufacturing Company, Midway Manufacturing Company, Steele Manufacturing Company. The population of Rockingham numbers 2,000 people.

The following are the county and town officials: J. M. Smith, Sheriff; Z. F. Long, Clerk County Court; W. F. Long, Deputy Clerk, Republican; R. J. Pence, Register of

Among the prominent Republicans in the city are Col. O. H. Dockery, H. C. Dockery, D. M. Morrison, chairman Executive Committee; Claudius Dockery, member of State Legislature; W. A. McDonald, O. H. Dockery, Jr., Settle Dockery, editor Rockingham Index, and Claude Sanford.

Rockingham is located in one of the most fertile sections of the State. We are surrounded by a thrifty and prosperous lot of hard working agriculturists, who know their business and do it. We have three elegant hotels, Richmond and McDonald, and Lewis hotel, all liberally patronized and well managed. They are all handsome buildings, well appointed and give entire satisfaction to the local and traveling public.

The following are a few of the best known citizens of Rockingham. Brief sketches of them:

HON. CLAUDIUS DOCKERY.

The subject of our sketch, Hon. Claudius Dockery, is a member of the State Legislature. He is Register of Deeds of Richmond county, and an ardent Republican. He is a graduate with high honors from the University of North Carolina, and received a license to practice law in 1889. He was for four years Vice-Consul General for the United States to Rio Janeiro, a position which he filled in such an admirable manner that he won many friends. Mr. Dockery is years old and very popular with those who know him. His knowledge of law is very superior for a young man, and he is an eloquent and earnest pleader at the bar. He is considered one of the handsomest men in Rockingham. He is a member of the Legislature who is frequently heard from on important actions that come before the House for legislation.

MR. SETTLE DOCKERY.

This young gentleman descends from a family of talented politicians and recognized Republican leaders. He is but 20 years old, yet is the proprietor of the leading weekly paper of Richmond county, The Rockingham Index. He is a graduate from the University of North Carolina, an institution from which he gained high honors.

He is a young man with a brilliant future, and is a bright, versatile newspaper writer. He is a Republican from the heart, and has a bright and brilliant future before him.

Mr. Settle Dockery is the Rockingham correspondent of THE TRIBUNE, and it is with pleasure that we acknowledge such a bright and pleasing Representative.

This article may be closed with the statement that Rockingham is all aglow to North Carolina's commercial and industrial progress and activity, alive to the South's awakened and energetic spirit. Cognizant of the good of fertile lands and humming machinery and thrifty farmers, she greets the world with a proud salute, saying, "Follow me."

If you desire to subscribe for THE TRIBUNE call on Mr. Settle Dockery, and he will take pleasure in attending to your wants.

A Plea for the Insane.

The election of a United States Senator now being out of the way, it is expected that the Legislature will get down to business, a considerable portion of which will be the changing of State officials. There will be a general turning out of Democratic officials—this is the natural result of the change of administration, and no one expects anything else. The turning out of every Democratic official possible is a legitimate result of the passing of that party from the control of the State.

Yet, while recognizing the right of the present administration to make these changes, the voice of humanity is heard protesting against a change in the management of the asylums. The Observer recollects that when the Democrats came into power, in 1876, the late William J. Yates, editor of the Charlotte Democrat, made a prompt and vigorous fight against the removal of Dr. Eugene Grissom from the superintendency of the State Insane Asylum at Raleigh. Dr. Grissom was a Republican, and there were capable Democrats who wanted his place, yet humanity prevailed over partisanship and Dr. Grissom was not removed until his own misdemeanor caused him to retire.

The same arguments that prevailed then are good now. It would be a grievous wrong to the unfortunate insane of the State to take away from them the people they have learned to love; who have their cases in hand, and who are gradually bringing them back into the light—and to put them in charge of strangers, totally unacquainted with their habits and conditions. It would be a change that would undo the patient and careful work of years, and that would be a crime against God's unfortunate people. It would not be more cruel to tear a babe from its mother's arms and toss it into the arms of a stranger.

Let all the other offices be changed, but when it comes to disturbing the life of the inmates of the State's asylums the administration should pause. As humanity triumphed over partisanship in 1876, so it should do now. The asylum doors themselves should be a protection for these unfortunates against the greed for office. Take everything else, but leave the asylums and their sacred charges unmolested.

"A PLEA FOR THE INSANE." In the issue of the 21st the Charlotte Observer, an editorial under the above caption appears, which is here reproduced.

It would doubtless seem foolishly hardy for a tyro to take issue with so doughty a champion as the editor of the Observer, still the writer, having some positive knowledge of asylum matters, begs pardon if he reads between the lines of the Observer's article.

The infernal praise and demand in behalf of the asylums must be considered in the light of the strong bond of friendship existing between the Superintendent of the State Hospital at Morganton and the editor of the Observer—said editor being also one of the directors of The Observer (ship) "is heard change in the asylums;" "the crime against people," etc.

A casual glance at the North Carolina of the by-laws of the management of the save under direction of the intendents.

"It would be a grievous wrong to take away from them the people they have learned to love; who have their cases in hand, and who are gradually bringing them back into the light—and to put them in charge of strangers, totally unacquainted with their habits and conditions. It would be a change that would undo the patient and careful work of years, and that would be a crime against God's unfortunate people. It would not be more cruel to tear a babe from its mother's arms and toss it into the arms of a stranger."

Let all the other offices be changed, but when it comes to disturbing the life of the inmates of the State's asylums the administration should pause. As humanity triumphed over partisanship in 1876, so it should do now. The asylum doors themselves should be a protection for these unfortunates against the greed for office. Take everything else, but leave the asylums and their sacred charges unmolested.

We reprint the following taken from "The Star-Chronicle," of Newbern, N. C., of Isaac H. Smith, of Newbern, N. C., known as the "McKinley man," the first tribute to the last man who is strongly endorsed by the country for Recorder of Deeds of Columbia, and thirty of his heart and the pocket, gave in St. Peter's church, December 28th, a tree full of useful articles, blind, sick and helpless town. Such a noble action, and God will reward such a man. This is his last week. Why don't those who want to be leaders in doing something for the cost something?—Star.

If a colored man is a member of the Recorder of Deeds of Columbia, we are not a colored man in the State, and we mean to see that no colored man in the State is entitled to the appointment of Isaac H. BOUNDARY OF

Treaty for Adjustment of Canada.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—The Secretary Olney and the British at the State Department this morning signed a treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the demarcation of the 141st meridian of longitude, which may be necessary for the settlement of the boundary between the two countries in the North Pole.

The President will send the treaty to the Senate on Monday. It provides for a similar to that of the 1846 mission, which will give information already collected between the United States and Great Britain, and the King of Canada, who under the agreement of this treaty is to define the boundary between Alaska and Canada, and it is believed the controversy over the gold fields in that Territory.

Bill to incorporate the town of Sar, Montgomery county, passed second reading and took its place on the Calendar for the third reading.

Mr. Cook moved to take from the table a bill entitled an act to prevent affrays. The motion was sustained. Mr. Cook advocated the bill, saying that the purpose of it was that only the man who uses language calculated and intended to provoke an affray, be held liable for such affray. Mr. Sutton said he was in sympathy with the position of the gentleman from Warren, but his bill went too far; that if a man were slandered in a newspaper or by word of mouth, and the injured party demanded satisfaction, he would be subject to arrest by the villain. Mr. Blackburn agreed with Mr. Sutton. To Mr. Walters it seemed a just bill, and should be enacted.

After considerable further discussion, a motion to table was carried by a rising vote.

Bill to levy a special tax in Montgomery county passed second reading.

Bill to place B. L. Crips on pension roll passed third reading.

Bill to amend chapter 199, laws of 1885, in relation to fees, was put upon second reading and tabled.

It passed both second and third readings.

3. Quartette—My Love. Bartlett. Messrs. Gudge, Eatman, Pfohl, Anderson.

My love, all charms thy face adorn, The flush of youth is on thy face, I see at eve and every morn, Some fresh memorial of thy grace.

Thy step is light and brisk and free, Thine eye is clear, sincere thy tone, Thy voice, my love, enchanteth me, And I am charmed by thee alone;

No phantom shape I vainly chase; Endures thy love, though seasons roll, Nor shall the years my own efface, It lives, the passion of my soul.

4. Flute Solo, Variations on a Familiar Air. Mr. Pfohl.

5. A Lover's Complaint. Glanville. The Glee Club.

6. Espanita Waltz. Rosey. The Mandolin Club.

PART II.

1. Gallant Knights. Leipziger. The Mandolin Club.

2. There Was a Man of Thessaly. McDougall. The Glee Club.

There was a man of Thessaly, and he was wondrous wise, He jumped into a bramble bush and scratched out both his eyes; And when he saw his eyes were out, with all his might and main He jumped into another bush and scratched them in again.

3. Solo, Bid Me to Love. D'Auvergne. Barnard.

Mr. Eatman.

5. Standard-Bearer March. Isenbarth. The Mandolin Club.

6. The Grasshopper—A Tragic Cantata. Innes. Randolph.

MILLIONS ARE IN NEED

The Famine in India Spreading in Area and Increasing in Intensity.

VERY URGENT NEED FOR RELIEF

LONDON FAMINE FUND NOT AS LARGE AS IT SHOULD BE.

Russian Fund Fizzled Out—Disgraceful Misappropriation of a Government Fund for Relief in Time of Distress.

London, Jan. 30.—The famine in India spreads in area and increases in intensity. The famine fund fails to mount up so rapidly as to warrant the sanguine estimate that a total of 1,000,000 pounds sterling will be reached. Thoroughly reliable and independent Indian advisers concur in stating that relief will be required for about three and a half million of people before the famine abates, the period of relief extending to September next. Nobody attempts to foretell what will happen if favorable rains fail to fall in the famine district in July and August next. The urgent and prospective pressure of the situation has awakened public recollection to the existence of the famine insurance fund, initiated by Lord Lytton, as viceroy of India in 1877. The government of India then undertook to set apart annually 1,500,000 pounds as a famine fund. A scheme of special taxation for this fund was adopted and carried out. What has been done with the fund? It has been largely misappropriated for military purposes, and, worse still, it has been drawn upon to give compensation allowances to the vast body of civilian and military officials in India, whose fixed salaries have suffered by the depreciation of the rupee. Even men who accepted office in India when the rupee stood at its lowest, and who knew what the sterling value of their salaries would amount to, have claimed and got out of the famine insurance fund compensation for the depreciation of the rupee. The dishonor attaching to this scandal will tarnish for all time the history of British rule in India. The Russian fund for the relief of India has fizzled out. The foreign press spoke of it, but it turns out to be nothing tangible. If Americans think of contributing, the relief should be given in grain. Tinned meats or other foods, excepting grain, would touch the caste prejudices even of the famine-stricken.

CUBANS ARE INDICTED

CHARGED WITH VIOLATION OF THE NEUTRALITY LAW.

Roloff and Luis Fitted Out a Filibustering Expedition at Baltimore—Hearing Before Judge Morris.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 30.—The United States grand jury today found indictments against Gen. Carlos Roloff, secretary of war of the Cuban government, and his compatriot, Dr. Josep. J. Luis, on the charge of "beginning, setting on foot and providing within the district of Maryland, means for a military expedition against the territory of a foreign prince with whom the United States is at peace; to wit, against the island of Cuba."

The crime is charged as committed July 3, 1895. Captain Hudson on that date purchased the steamer James Woodall, in this port, for $13,000 for the Cuban Junta, and fitted her out as a filibuster. On July 9 of that year the Woodall sailed hence, ostensibly for Yucatan; but it is alleged that Roloff and Luis caused the vessel to put in at Harbor Key, Fla., where men and munitions were taken on board and subsequently landed on the Cuban coast.

A second indictment for conspiracy is laid against the men in the name of T. Smith, otherwise known as J. T. Smith, included. Roloff is said in the indictment to have been otherwise known as Dr. Luis, has a number of aliases, among which are J. J. Luis, and Dr. Lucas. A warrant will be issued and the two men held in New York. The hearing of the case before the United States grand jury will be begun promptly. The witnesses before and also the witnesses at the trial of the Captain of Brooklyn, and John Lockney, of this

FOR WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

Even the "Courtship Representative" Voted to Allow Miss Lewis the Use of the Hall.

A lecture in advocacy of woman's rights is to be an attraction in Representatives hall on the evening of February 11th. Miss Helen Norris Lewis, of Asheville, a well known advocate of this new departure for woman's rights, is to be the lecturer.

Col. Lusk, of Buncombe, yesterday in making a speech before the House, urging the adoption of a resolution allowing Miss Lewis the use of the hall, said that he was personally acquainted with that lady and would assure the young members of the House that if they would vote for the resolution, they would have the pleasure of hearing an eloquent and much more than ordinary talent and culture, and of looking upon a young lady of especially handsome appearance.

There had, up to the time Col. Lusk made this statement been a strong disposition to oppose the resolution; but thereupon every young man and a number of old ones too for that matter "tumbled" instantly and all opposition "went to the four winds." The vote in favor of Miss Lewis was unanimous. Even "the courtship representative" from Asheville sprang to his feet and declared in clear tones that he would support the bill, yes, and even hear the lady lecture. He did not say he would embrace her doctrines; but one might infer, from his apparent enthusiasm, that he would willingly do as much.

Mr. Blackburn's vigorous opposition to the bill providing for the appointment of female notaries public, on the day previous, had not been forgotten by his colleagues, and his course on this occasion was therefore all the more a "sensational."

CITY OFFICIALS INDICTED

ALDERMAN GOT MONEY FOR HIS INFUENCE.

False Swearing and Malfeasance in Office—Most of Them Are A. P. A. Men.

Louisville, Jan. 30.—The grand jury today returned indictments against fourteen people connected with the city government, including aldermen and police officers. Other indictments may also be expected. Those indicted are: R. E. King, president of the board of aldermen; Aldermen R. O. Breuer and J. E. Leatherman, whose indictment was ordered yesterday; Major Sebastian Gunther, assistant Chief of Police; Alderman John De Garmo, Charles Kramer, Jr., Secretary of the Board of Public Safety; Pat Ahern, Martin Donohue, Harry Debo, Wm. Kimball, James T. Drake, Alderman C. J. Jenne and Policemen Steve Connelly and Nick Varilla.

The indictment against Alderman De Garmo charges him with obtaining money by false pretence for obtaining influence. Henry Debo and Wm. Kimball were indicted for swearing. Major of Police Gunther and Policemen Connelly and Varilla are charged with malfeasance in office, in failing to suppress gambling. James Drake, a contractor, and Alderman Leatherman and Breuer will have to answer a joint indictment on the charge of conspiracy in getting a contract through the council. Charles Kramer, Jr., Pat Ahern, Martin Donohue, Henry Debo and Wm. Kimball were indicted jointly on the charge of conspiracy to aid in a false prosecution and to institute a false prosecution in the name of the commonwealth against other persons.

The indictments against Aldermen King, Leatherman and Jenne charge them with offering complete protection to a faro bank in consideration of one-third of the net profits. Bench warrants were issued for the arrest of the indicted men, but by agreement they will not be served until Monday, as bond cannot be given on Sunday. The indicted aldermen are A. P. A. Republicans; all the others are Democrats, except contractor James, who was an A. P. A. leader.

Another Step Forward by Japan.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—Under the treaty with Japan proclaimed March 21, 1895, which does not, however, go into effect until July 17, 1899, there is an article granting the citizens of either country the same protection as native citizens in regard to patents, trademarks and designs, upon full fulfillment of the formalities of law. Since that treaty was negotiated the Japanese have imitated American manufactures, using trade marks and other individual designs, and imported such goods into this country at prices below those at which the same goods can be made here. Business men here protested, and recently Secretary Olney negotiated a brief treaty which makes Article XVI. of this treaty go into effect at once. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations this afternoon ordered a favorable report to be made on this treaty and it will probably be ratified at once.

Y. M. C. A. ITEMS.

Senator Ramsay Speaks to Men—Y. M. C. A. State Convention.

Secretary Overton wishes all the male voices of the choir for the Baptist Y. M. C. A. State Convention to meet for rehearsal at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Senator Ramsay, of Salisbury, will speak at the Y. M. C. A. meeting today at 4 p. m. All men are invited to attend.

The Y. M. C. A. State Convention will meet at Winston-Salem, February 19-23. An attractive and instructive program will be given. Raleigh is entitled to twelve delegates.

From a letter received from Lexington it is learned that M. H. Pinnix, Esq., a prominent citizen and leading lawyer, died very unexpectedly at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. He had been indisposed a few days, but his death was entirely unlooked for.

Mr. N. E. Jennett, the young correspondent on the News and Observer staff, resigned his position and will leave Raleigh about the first instant for New York where he will enter the National my of Design, so he informed a reporter last night.

"HOGAN'S ALLEY 400."

A Cake Walk and Ball—Original Costumes—Who Won the Prizes.

"Hogan's Alley 400" will give a cake walk for the benefit of the yellow kid, was the unique inscription which appeared on the door of the dance hall of the Park last evening. This proved to be a fancy dress ball and cake walk given by a party of ladies and gentlemen boarding at the Park. Haywood's band furnished the music. The costumes, it might be said, ranged from "the sublime to the ridiculous." Much individuality and originality was shown in many of the "get ups."

Col. P. A. Olds represented the "Yellow Kid." Messrs. George C. McGilvrey and James Litchford Sambo and Dinah, Miss Yula Cawthorne wore a costume of 1800 and Miss Bessie Caulk one of 1865. Miss (?) R. E. Crawford represented the Greek Lady; Miss Lusk, a Japanese Princess; Miss Eliza Primrose appeared as "Little Miss Muffit;" Miss Zella Smith as "Sweet Sixteen;" Mrs. R. W. Rogers, an "Egyptian Princess;" Mrs. Thacker, a "Twentieth Century Widow;" Mr. F. C. Olds, the "Summer Dude;" Mr. Spencer Blackburn, the "Hatter;" Mr. Loran Harris, a "Bicycle Girl;" Mr. G. C. McGilvrey, "Doty Dimple;" Mrs. Gresham, "Princess of Thule;" Mr. R. W. Rogers, a "Turkish Prince;" Mr. Robert Leach, the "Howling Swell;" and Mr. Henry Litchford as "Lord Dundreary."

Two beautiful cakes, made by Mr. Ross, the baker of the Park Hotel, were the prizes. The judges were Major and Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Cawthorne, Mrs. Smith, Capt. Gresham and Representative Sutton, of New Hanover. The cake for the best couple was won by Mr. McGilvrey and Mr. Henry Litchford, and that for the best individual walkers by Miss Eliza Primrose and Mr. McGilvrey. The dancing continued until midnight.

Col. John S. Cunningham was among the interested spectators.

Seemed to Be the Feature in the Security Market.

STEADY UPWARD MOVEMENT

NOTICEABLE IN THE GENERAL MARKETS.

Nothing Remarkable Disclosed itself During the Day—Evidences of Improved Business Are Very Marked.

New York, Jan. 30.—The feature of the security markets today was the increased activity in bonds. Dealings in this department reached the enormous total for a half holiday of $2,261,000, and prices moved up everywhere from 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. The inability to find money at anything like paying rates accounts for the steady absorption and advance in mortgages. The rise in bonds led to extensive purchases for both accounts, and the railway and miscellaneous bonds showed material gains. London bought moderate amounts of the internal issues and mortgage houses reported a little better inquiry for the leading specialties. The largest buying, however, was for the purpose of covering short contracts. Long Island led the list in point of advance, rising 3/4 to 88 on the sale of Corbin stock to the syndicate. Expert Little's report was made public and failed to confirm the unfavorable rumors so freely circulated of late. Northern Pacific led in point of activity, advancing to 13 1/2 for the common, and 8 1/2 for the preferred. Rumors of an important alliance with the great Northern or Northwest are again revived. The grangers were favorably affected by the rumors, and moved up to 24 1/2 for the common, and 16 1/2 for the preferred. In the industrial general electric, sugar and gas were prominent. In regard to the latter (Chicago gas) was reported that the directors at their meeting Monday intend to declare another dividend of 1 1/4 per cent. The sharp recovery in wheat added stimulating influence, but the bank statement with its contraction in loans and increase in surplus reserve, with ignored speculation closed strongly, with an advancing tendency. Net changes show gains of 1/2 per cent. Total sales were 133,500 shares, including 22,900 Northern Pacific preferred, 100 St. Paul and 7,300 sugar. The market for bonds was active and strong today, and the sales aggregated $2,261,000 an unusually heavy total for a half holiday.

MONEY MARKET.

New York, Jan. 30.—Money on call 1/2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 1/2 per cent. Bar silver 4 1/2-16. Securities exchange dull and easy, with active business in bankers' bills at 4 1/4-1/2 for 60 days and 4 1/4-1/2 for demand. Posted rates 4 1/4-1/2 for demand. Money market strong. State bonds neglected. Railroad bonds active and higher. Silver at the board was without sale.

SUN COTTON REPORT.

New York, Jan. 30.—Spot cotton here was unchanged with sales of 140 bales for spinning. Middling ups 7 1/2 against 8 1/2 last week. New Orleans and Gulf 7 1/2-16 against 8 1/2 last week.

The speculation today was stagnant. The fluctuations in prices were confined within narrow limits, and the closing figures were practically unchanged from last night's final quotations. The decline in Liverpool, both for futures and spots caused an easier opening here, but on decreased estimates of the receipts at the ports and interior towns next week, the tone became firmer and prices advanced slightly. Part of this trifling improvement was lost before the close, however, on selling by local scalpers. The receipts at the ports for the week are estimated at 110,000 to 115,000 against 140,300 last week.

THE CONGESTION OF CASH

NEW YORK BANKS ACCUMULATING MORE THAN THEY NEED.

The Condition of the Money Market is Interesting to Some but Unsatisfactory to Others.

New York, Jan. 30.—The New York Financier says this week:

The excess reserve of the New York city banks is now $59,148,250, or a sum approximately equal to the combined capital of the members of the clearing house association. The amount is steadily increasing, the expansion for the week has been $2,080,450.

The actual gain in cash by the banks was $2,043,500, deposits having fallen off $147,800.

There was on the other hand a decrease of $1,573,000 in loans, which shows the effects of the present congested money market at this centre. The policy of the banks until this week has been to refuse to lend money for less than 2 per cent. as many of them were passing that amount on balances, but if the present move to reduce bank accounts to less than that amount is successful the loan which now go to trust companies may be reflected in the bank statement. But aside from that feature the liquidation in sterling exchange bills, which was mentioned in this analysis last week, has operated to reduce loans since the closing of these accounts has necessarily cancelled loans on sterling security.

Just what proportion this liquidation has assumed is not known, but if the course of the foreign money market is such as to involve a larger closing of these accounts, the idle money thus thrown back on New York will only go to swell the amount of useless money at this centre.

The present situation is interesting, even if unsatisfactory. There is no probability of relief in gold exports and the relief which government bond sales gave to the money market in the past will not be repeated. The accumulation of money will, therefore, have to seek an outlet in domestic expansion, and the rapid rise in the price of government and gilt edged bonds show that it is already seeking investment. There will be an end to this sooner or later, and money eventually will go into legitimate enterprises, which offer the most uses.

The Bessemer City Messenger said before the election that Mrs. D. L. Russell would make one of the most agreeable and effective mistresses that ever presided over the executive mansion at Raleigh. All those who know Mrs. Russell will acknowledge this to be true. No more courteous, affable and intellectual woman can be found within the limits of the State. The administration of Governor Russell will gain added prestige from its association with such an elegant hostess as Mrs. Russell.—Hickory Press.

Strange to say, George Frank, the colored boy who was accidentally shot by Elisha Cashwell, colored, at Mr. John F. Garrell's butcher pen, on Monday, is getting along quite well and will, no doubt, recover. The pistol ball entered the left shoulder blade and passed only an inch under the heart.—Wilmington Messenger.

THAT RAILROAD LICENSE BILL.

The Special Committee to Hear Argument Feb. 6, 3:30 o'clock.

The special committee appointed by the Speaker of the House Friday to consider the bill introduced on that day prescribing terms upon which foreign railroads would be allowed to operate in North Carolina held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Supreme Court room. There was a full attendance of the committee, which is composed of the following gentlemen: Mr. Cook, Chairman; Sutton of Cumberland, Aiken, Hauser, Solulken, Person of Wayne and Pearson.

There was informal discussion of the bill and the best methods of arriving at the merits and demerits of the same. Finally the following resolution was adopted, which is self explanatory:

Resolved, That the consideration of this bill by the special committee to which it has been referred is set for Saturday, February 6th, at 3:30 o'clock, in the Supreme Court room, when argument will be heard from any interested parties, and a conclusion as to what report the committee will make upon the bill to the House determined upon.

Record Broken.

Yesterday, for the first time since the Legislature convened, the House was called to order behind time. It was ten minutes past the appointed hour (ten o'clock) when Speaker Hileman rapped for order.

On several occasions it has occurred that he has rapped for order ahead of time, being misled by a fast clock or other causes. Altogether Mr. Hileman has been remarkably prompt in convening the sessions, and regular in attendance. Rarely has it occurred that he has taken occasion to call a Representative to serve as chairman pro tem. Col. Lusk and Col. Sutton have on two or three occasions wielded the gavel in his stead.

A Minority Report.

Yesterday morning, in the House of Representatives, the Committee on Privileges and Elections made an unfavorable report of the bill providing for the appointment of a subcommittee to take evidence in the Broughton-Young contest case. There was a minority report also, signed by Col. Cunningham and Messrs. Creech and Ferguson.

The minority, of course, insisted that the bill should have the favorable consideration of the House.

Indications are that the report of the minority will have little if any weight with the Representatives.

Local News.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

$75.00 REWARD.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Whereas, official information has been received at this department that John Keel, a white man, late of the county of Pitt, stands charged with the murder of David Crandall. And whereas, it appears that the said John Keel has fled the State, or so conceals himself that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him.

Now, therefore, I, Daniel L. Russell, Governor of the State of North Carolina, by virtue of authority in me vested by law, do issue this my proclamation, offering a reward of seventy-five dollars for the apprehension and delivery of the said John Keel to the Sheriff of Pitt county at the Courthouse in Greenville, and I do enjoin all officers of the State and all good citizens to assist in bringing said criminal to justice.

Done at our City of Raleigh, the twenty-third day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven and in the one hundred and twenty-first year of our American Independence.

DESCRIPTION.—White man, stout, well built; round, red face, little red mustache; weighs 180 pounds; left shoulder little sloping; sandy red hair.

DANIEL L. RUSSELL.

By the Governor,
JOE E. ALEXANDER,
Private Secretary.

Death of Mr. David King.

Mr. David H. King passed away in his room over Mr. Robert Simpson's drug store yesterday morning at twenty minutes to twelve. Mr. King had not been confined to his room more than a week. He was taken with la grippe about ten days ago. This disease soon developed into pneumonia, affecting both lungs.

Mr. Dave King, as he was generally called, was born in Person county in 1852. He came to Raleigh about twenty-five years ago and for a long time held a position in Mr. A. B. Creech's dry goods store. After leaving this position Mr. King traveled for a Baltimore firm, but for the past four years he has been connected with the S-aboard Air Line. Mr. King had a warm, genial disposition, and if he had an enemy it was not known. He was always in a good humor, and as he made his rounds through the city as collector for the S. A. L. he always had a pleasant word for his friends.

Mr. King had no relations living in this city. His brother, Mr. John King, is a Representative from Granville county in the present Legislature. He has some other relatives in Person county and in Alabama.

The funeral will occur Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the Edenton Street M. E. Church. Dr. W. C. Norman will conduct the services. The pall bearers are Messrs. J. E. Barkley, J. R. Ferrall, J. A. Higgs, J. L. Ramsey, Fred. Saunders, W. M. Ross, T. B. Pegram, G. E. Leach, Lynn Wilder and C. D. Hutchings.

Entertainment to be Repeated.

The delightful entertainment given at the Bird Institution last Thursday evening will be repeated on next Tuesday night.

Since the hall is not large enough to accommodate many, so only members of the Legislature were invited before, but for Tuesday evening an invitation is extended to all. To those who enjoy music this concert will be a treat.

To say Hard Times are over. As no one can complain of hard times if they will only go round to the Lyon Racket Store, 16 East Market St., Raleigh, N. C., and see at what low prices they are selling goods. We will quote you a few prices in trunks, valises and such things as Hardware, as we now sell them at about one-half of the regular price; but we are determined to sell goods if we have to sell at the smallest profit goods were ever sold at. Some ask, "How can they sell at such small profit?" Quick sales and small profits repeated often are equal to slow sales and large profits, and we prefer quick sales and the cash to accompany the sale.

Read the prices below and be convinced.
